

American Literature

Annette McIndoo

Annamc1012@gmail.com

-In this course, we will study literary works starting from the Colonial Age through to the Modern Age. There are many stories in this book. We will not be able to cover them all, so I will pick a selection from each period.

-You will need to purchase American Literature by Whit Jones through Apologia. Your student will also need the journal that goes along with it.

-There are tests in the journal for students to take. I will NOT grade these and leave them up to the parents to hand out.

-I do expect students to come prepared and ready to talk about the stories read that week.

-There are not additional costs outside of the book and journal.